To whom it may concern:

Effective May 17, 2006, state legislation requires that any prospective contractor seeking to enter into a contract with San Juan County, must file a Campaign Contribution Disclosure Form (copy enclosed) with the County. Campaign Contribution Disclosure Forms will be required for each Request for Proposal submitted, sole source award, or small purchase professional service contract with San Juan County.

The Campaign Contribution Disclosure Form must be filed by any prospective contractor whether or not they, their family member, or their representative has made any contributions exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars ($250), to an applicable state or local public official prior to execution of a contract. Campaign contributions made during the two (2) years prior to the date on which the contractor submits a proposal, or in the case of a sole source or small purchase contract, the two years prior to the date the contractor signs the contract, requires the filing of a Campaign Contributions Disclosure Form if the campaign contribution amount exceeded $250.

A prospective contractor, family member, or representative of the prospective contractor shall not give a campaign contribution or other thing of value to an applicable public official or the applicable public official’s employees during the pendency of the procurement process or during the pendency of negotiations for a sole source or small purchase contract. Applicable local public officials for San Juan County are listed above.

Proposed Warehouse Expansion – 2014

Raytheon Missile Systems/Navajo Nation Project

Farmington, New Mexico

General Information

The Navajo Nation and Raytheon are proposing the design and construction of a 30,000 square foot; high bay warehouse co-located on the west half of lot 17A, Parcel B, of the Navajo Nation’s NAPI Industrial Park, a Navajo owned, contractor leased defense systems manufacturing facility. The warehouse will be used for the storage and transition of Raytheon products. It will fill a critical need for raw materials and finished goods storage that currently exists at the site. The components of construction of the architectural items shall match or be similar to those at the current manufacturing site/facilities.
Raytheon has a long history with the State of New Mexico and the Navajo Nation. The Raytheon Diné Facility has been operating for 24 years on the Navajo Nation outside of Farmington, New Mexico.

The project shall comply with Raytheon standard specifications and details and will be designed and constructed by fully licensed architects/engineers and building contractors in the State of New Mexico and constructed as a build to suit project by the Navajo Nation.

Basis for Design

All local, state and federal regulations applicable to the work will be considered in the design of this project involving the architectural, civil, structural, electrical and mechanical disciplines and associated professions. These include but not limited to the latest editions of the International Building Code for Plumbing, Mechanical, Electrical, Fire, Structural and Architectural, National Electric Safety Code, National Fire Prevention Association, Life Safety Code, ADA Act and Factory Mutual. Existing utility systems will be utilized to service the new warehouse facility.

A preliminary design and a budgetary estimate for this project have been completed and can be describe further as such....

Site Construction

As mentioned, the proposed structure will be constructed on the west half of Lot 17A at the existing Raytheon Dine Facility on the Navajo Nation NAPI Facility in Farmington, New Mexico. Necessary site preparations including all required fill and site grading and drainage designs will be performed to prepare the building site for construction activities. All designs will tie into existing domestic cold water, natural gas and sanitary sewer utilities and metered as appropriate. The design will comply with all local requirements as mentioned above. The scope of work will also address storm drainage from the new addition and any modifications required to the existing site to complete a fully functional design. All paving will match current conditions and Raytheon specifications.
Concrete and Foundation Systems

The proposed project will be reinforced cast in place concrete foundation system with a slab on grade concrete floor to support typical warehousing activities and equipment loads. Reinforced cast in place concrete column foundations will be used to support the roofs loads imposed. Concrete loading ramps will be constructed to support various truck and equipment loading and delivery functions required by the business operations.

Building Construction and Systems

The building will be constructed of prefabricated structural steel columns and framing with insulated metal roofing and siding panels similar to the existing facilities on site. In particular the most recent factory expansion completed in 2007. Basic building functions are detailed on the attached floor plan.

Building Interior Finishes

All interior room wall assemblies will be standard metal stud and painted gypsum board construction to identify spaces (break room, restrooms, IT/tele....) indicated on attached floor plan. Typical modular lay-in ceilings and fluorescent lighting and wood doors with metal frames will be used for all similar spaces. Warehouse and equipment room flooring will be finished concrete slab with restrooms and break-rooms vinyl tile finish. Warehouse wall and ceiling finishes will be of exposed structure and building systems typical. Warehouse high-bay ceilings at 25’ clear will be the design specification.

Equipment and Specialties

The building will have a fully monitored fire protection (Factory Mutual) and security system to meet Raytheon’s current asset protection standards along with the various customer requirements. Fire alarm, process control, alarms, P.A./security and access controls shall be compatible with existing systems and will connect to existing control centers.

Mechanical and Electrical
Evaporative cooling will be provided for summer environmental control along with gas fired warehouse heating for winter comfort and product protection. Computer/tele/data rooms will be provided with specific and separate systems to support their environmental requirements. All building environmental equipment will be controlled by a building automation system compatible with the existing factory facilities. A typical code compliant electrical system will be installed to support the warehouse function.
